New War May Break Out If Governor's Plan Doesn't
Suit Leaders

By Associated Press
Madison—With the first break
among the LaFollette Progressive Republican members of the legislature temporarily smoothing over, attention is now being turned to the governor's tax bill which he has promised to have completed
for the members before they adjourn
next Thursday.

This measure, Governor Blaine intends, shall supplant the Dahl general income tax bill and the Severson income surtax bill, as well as all measures affecting the personal property tax and the income tax, and the tax commission appropriation bill. According to the governor, it will meet objections of various classes of citizens
and of industrial interests, to the general tax bills already introduced.

FACES ATTACK
Speaker John L. Dahl and the group of assemblymen he represents, are now awaiting the governor's measure,
prepared to attack it providing drastic provisions are not included. A similar attitude is assumed by a group in the upper house headed by Senator H. J.
Severson.

Governor Blaine won out in his first encounter with the more radical element among the Progressives, when all the smoke had cleared away, but this was done after he had told assembly-
men that action on the proposed repeal of the personal property tax would amount to an expression of lack of confidence in the executive.

BLAINE IN CONTROL AGAIN
He promised to have his bill prepared within a week, and advised the assemblymen called to his office that the proposal would be comprehensive and satisfactory to all interests. In his opinion, having taken the leadership of the Progressives in the legislature,
he felt they knew that he intended to exercise his power, and that he likewise was willing to assume responsibility for a tax measure.

Much of the success that will meet
the governor's proposal will depend upon the attitude of Speaker Dahl in the assembly and Senator Severson in the senate. There is a possibility that the controversy that broke this week
between the speaker and the governor,
will recur when his measure comes before the legislature.

The governor has not disclosed the exact contents of his bill, which it is believed will be drawn to raise not more than $10,000,000 from incomes.

LICENSE CHIROPRACTORS

Madison—The assembly Friday engrossed the Miner bill providing for the licensing of chiropractors and for their examination by a state board of three members. The board would determine the fitness of applicants to practice their profession and grant
them licenses upon passage of satisfactory examination.

The senate assembly bill making an annual appropriation of $275,000 for school districts which maintain high schools was engrossed.

The return of standing bars to Wisconsin saloons dispensing soft drinks
was favored by the assembly by en-grossment of the Mark bill removing restrictions against maintenance of bars.

Following is the senate roll call:
For adoption—Barber, Elgren, Cash-
man, Heck, Hirsch, Huber, Kemp, Pa-
lakowski, Quick, Ridgway, Schumann, Severson, Staudemayer, Teasdale and Titus.

Against adoption—Burke, Clark,
Czerwinski, Kuckuk, Lange, Morris,
Skogmo and White.

U. S. TO INVESTIGATE SUGAR DEALINGS

Washington—Charges that there is a conspiracy in the sugar trade to raise prices were said at the department of justice Monday to be of sufficient gravity to warrant a preliminary inquiry by the federal government's legal officers. A conference was arranged between Acting Attorney General Seymour and Secretary
Hoover with a view of joint action.

ORDER RAILROAD REPORTS

Washington—An order was issued Friday by the Interstate Commerce commission requiring all railroads to report by May 1 as to their earnings
during the year 1922 and to pay over to the government under the transportation act, one-half of the amount
by which such earnings exceeded a 6 percent return on the value of the investment.

Honeymoon Is Her Choice As Trip Is Offered

By Associated Press
Chicago—Fred K. Weyerhaeuser,
one of the principal heirs to the great Weyerhaeuser fortune left by his grandfather, St. Paul lumber magnate, and his bride were on their honeymoon Friday after a hasty marriage which took place Thursday night at the home of the bride, Miss Vivian O'Garra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas J. O'Garra.

The marriage was said to have been hastened—the engagement had been announced only twenty-four hours earlier—was said to have resulted from a prospective separation
which the young people were unwilling to have take place. The bride's parents had planned a European trip
with her but instead the daughter preferred the honeymoon, the destination of which was not announced.

Mr. Weyerhaeuser was said to possess a fortune estimated at $5,000,000
in his own right as well as being an heir to the great Weyerhaeuser fortune
which is said to approximate $300,000, 000 although the exact value of the estate never has been publicly established.

The bride's father has large coal
interests.

12 DEMOCRATS IN FORE FOR 1924 CAMPAIGN

Lawrence Announces Newspapers Candidates With Aid
Of Bryan And Cox

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by Post Pub. Co.
Miami, Fla.—Now that Attorney
General Daugherty has nominated
General Harding as the next Republican candidate for the presidency,
the writer besought William Jennings Bryan and James M. Cox to make a newspaper nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Both these men who have carried the Democratic standard in national campaigns have learned, however, that in the game of politics it is not discreet to discuss personalities. Whatever they might say might be mis-strued. Yet both have well defined ideas on the men who ought not in their judgment to be nominated.

HERE'S LIST
Combining the two lists which each man gave the writer, the catalog of candidates for the Democratic nomination would seem to include the following:

Samuel Ralston, governor of Indiana.

John W. Davis, West Virginia, former ambassador to Great Britain and former solicitor general, under the Wilson administration.

William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Alabama.

Governor "Al" Smith, New York.
Governor A. V. Donahy, Ohio.

Governor Jonathan M. Davis, Kansas.

Representative Ayres, Kansas.
Henry Ford, Detroit, automobile
king.

Former President Woodrow Wilson.

ADDS BRYAN AND COX

When William Jennings Bryan and Former Governor Cox are added to the list—for they have many supporters
throughout the rank and file of the Democratic party—the roster would appear to be complete. Out of this group, therefore, will the next nominee be picked. That, at least, is the judgment of one of the two men interviewed here though the other seems to think the next congress may develop a leader for democracy.

URGES U. S. HELP TO ADJUST REPARATIONS

By Associated Press
Washington—A proposal that European business men work out a plan for reparations settlement based on American financial cooperation, was laid before the delegates to the second meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce in Rome by Fred J.
Kent, vice president of the Bankers'
Trust company of New York and member of the American delegation Friday.

Coupled with the proposal was the assertion by Mr. Kent that there was a "great waiting group in the United States ready to support such a move
before the American public."

DRYS GIVEN BLOW BY STATE BODY

Passage Of Bill Prohibiting Search In Homes Is Predicted, However

By Associated Press
Madison—By a vote of 5 to 4 the assembly state affairs committee recommended indefinite postponement of the Sachtjen bill, following a lengthy hearing Thursday. The bill would prohibit enforcement officers from searching homes unless they possessed positive proof that liquor was being manufactured for sale or sold there.
The committee men voted as follows:

For indefinite postponement—Goodman, Grandine, Freehoff, Halverson and Kamper.

Against indefinite postponement—
Weber, Zittlow, Prescott and F. C.
Smith.

Although defeated in the committee
the wets control the lower house and are united behind the Sachtjen bill.
Its passage in the assembly is admitted, with the fight to center in the upper house where the division is close.

SECRET CLAUSE REPEAL NEAR

MEASURE WINS AT THIRD READING

Assembly Advances Severson
Bill—Already Approved
By Senators

Madison—The Severson bill, providing for complete repeal of the secrecy
clause to the Wisconsin income tax law was sent to third reading Friday
by the assembly. This measure, already passed in the senate, was favored in the lower house on a vote of 74 to 10.

With the final passage of the secrecy clause repeal in the assembly
Progressive members of the legislature will have redeemed one of the principal pledges made to the people in the last campaign.

There was not a word of discussion
on this proposal which was a center
of controversy in the 1922 election when it came up in the assembly. A roll call was asked and the measure advanced by an overwhelming majority.

Senator H. J. Severson first introduced the bill to repeal the secrecy clause in the 1919 session and has been a leader in the move to open income tax returns to the public since that time. Governor Blaine took an active hand in sponsoring the proposal
at the special session in March 1922
and again in the last campaign.

VICE BILL WINS

Madison—The Ridgway bill providing for stringent regulation of dance
halls under supervision of the county boards of the state, was engrossed in the Wisconsin senate Friday. This measure carries out the wishes of county boards and of women's organizations of the state for suppression of vice in amusement places of Wisconsin.

DENTISTS TOLD SLEEP ILLNESS DUE TO BAD GUMS

By Associated Press
El Paso, Tex.—Sleeping sickness is caused by mucous membrane infection, originating in the gums, Dr.
Hugh Crouse of El Paso told dentists
at the annual convention of the Southwestern Dental society in session here Friday.

The medical name for the disease,
enophthalma lathargia is entirely incorrect, he said, and should be endorphthalma.

The way to detect the disease is by drooping eyelids and headaches, he said. It is not usually accompanied by fever. He said he did not believe in serum for treatment of sleeping sickness.

SHAWANO WHIPS RIO IN 2 OVERTIME PERIODS

periods before Shawano took the victory.

24 to 14.

5-Mile Ice Gorge Menaces Sioux City

By Associated Press
Sioux City, Ia.—Held by an ice
gorge, five miles in size, formed at Bradfield's Island, south of here,
spring flood waters of the Missouri
river Friday threatened to sweep through parts of this city unless the jam is broken. Already the backup waters, that continued to rise while efforts were made to break up the gorge
by dynamiting, has caused one death.
Several other persons were reported drowned and hundreds of head of livestock, implements and dwellings were carried away. The property damage was estimated in excess of $100,000.

OLD BATTLESHIP IOWA SINKS 'MID STRAINS

By Associated Press
Aboard U. S. Maryland, Panama
Bay—Amid strains of the Star-
Spangled Banner and the firing of national salutes, the old battleship Iowa sank here late Friday. After a shelling by the Superdreadnaught Mississippi's fourteen inch rifles, the battered hulk turned slowly over on its side
and slid beneath the waves.

Secretary Denby, members of the congressional party, naval officers
and observing ships companies stood at attention in silent tribute to the once gallant ship that won fame in the destruction of Cervera's Fleet at Santiago.

With this dramatic climax the winter maneuvers of the United States fleet ended. The Iowa sank within 17 minutes after the superdreadnaught opened up with service shells from a range of approximately nine miles.

LAWSON NOT GUILTY

liam Shipley, near here on Jan. 8 by a Boone district court jury Friday morning, after 18 hours deliberation.

ODOR FROM STILL CAUSES ARREST OF PAIR AT KAUKAUNA

Joseph Reichel And Walter Kap-
pell, Jr., Held For Making Booze

Three stills, 350 gallons of mash
and a small quantity of moonshine whisky composed the loot seized by Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke and a deputy in the raid staged in the homes of two Kaukauna residents, following a
"cherry" tip to the Electric City
during the noon hour Friday.

In fact the ink was hardly dry on the search warrants when the county
officers had returned with the prize.
In consequence Joseph Reichel
and Walter Kappell, Jr., found themselves under arrest charged with manufacture and possession of the forbidden liquor. After they received their preliminary hearing they were bound over by Judge A. M.
Spencer to the upper branch of the municipal court for trial. Bail was fixed at $1,000 in each case, which was furnished by the men.

Two stills were found in the basement of Kappell's home as well as 300 gallons of mash. One still, fifty gallons of mash and one gallon of moonshine were found in the basement of the Reichel home. The stills were in operation and could be smelled for blocks, for the wind was coming from
that direction, it was said.

WALSH QUESTIONS VERACITY OF 'K.97'

Attorney For Foster Begins Defense—Charges Agent
Stirred Up Trouble

By Associated Press
St. Joseph, Mich.—William Z. Foster's defense against charges of syndicalism, growing out of his attendance
at the Communist convention last summer, opened Friday with an attack on the reputation and credibility of "K.97," the government agent who attended the convention as a delegate.
Depositions taken by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Foster at Philadelphia and Camden, N. J. were produced in an effort to show that the department of justice agent, whose real name is Francis Morrow, had a bad reputation for truth and veracity and that, as an agent provocateur he had attempted to stir up riots at Socialist street meetings.

In absence of the jury the depositions introduced of the statements
and Judge Charles White, virtually sustained the prosecution by ruling out large sections.

EXPERTS CALLED IN BOMB CASE

State Tightening Strings Of Circumstantial Evidence
On Magnuson

By Associated Press
Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.—All loose
strings of the vast circumstantial net,
which the state has been throwing out in an effort to gather all alleged collateral offenses of John Magnuson, charged with the death of Mrs. James R. Chapman, who was instantly killed upon opening the "Tule" bomb package were expected to be tightly woven together at Friday's session of circuit court, with the calling of several handwriting experts, chemists and metallurgists, who are expected to upset the plans of the defense.

According to state attorneys Friday's witnesses will prove conclusively that the filing of T. N. C. caps and collateral offenses of the defendant are exactly of the manufacture found in the death bomb.

Professor Arthur Kohler, university of Wisconsin, Thursday afternoon contributed the most damaging evidence against the farmer so far
when he testified to having found white ink, the material of which the state alleges the bomb was construced in Magnuson's workshop.

The chamber immediately went into session and the jury heard the evidence which I feared would be published.

"He lied when he said it," the premier angrily ejaculated and the deputies, most of whom had not heard M.
Berthion's accusation, jumped to their feet, all of them with the exception of the Communists and a few of the radicals, cheering Poincare madly.

WHITEWASHING OF LAFOLLETTE IS COMPLETED

Resolutions In Legislature On
"Bob's" War Record Finally Disposed Of

By Associated Press
Madison—Resolutions referring to the war record of United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette, were finally disposed of in the Wisconsin legislature Thursday night with adoption by the senate of the Miner resolution reaffirming faith in the commander-
in-chiefship of the senior Wisconsin
senator and censuring those who attacked him during the World War.
This measure, adopted 15 to 8 in the upper house, had gone through 74 to 18 in the morning by a vote of 74 to 18. Senator John Cashman, Denmark, made an extended defense of the war
stand of Senator LaFollette in urging adoption of the resolution for nearly an hour he attacked the leaders of the United States government at the time
his country entered the war, denouncing their motives while he praised
those of the Wisconsin senator.

Senator Timothy Burke, Green Bay,
offered the only spoken opposition to the resolution with a short talk which he said he made "in defense and in honor of the soldiers who gave up their lives in the interests of civilization."

DEFENDS WAR HEROES

"The deeds those men accomplished
cannot be undone in anything
said here," the Green Bay senator said. "Western civilization and the American nation is saved as a result of their acts."

"Neither history or posterity will ever vindicate the man whom Senator Cashman tries to defend. He will go down in history with others who opposed the war."

Senator Cashman answering Senator Burke, declared that he did not seek to belittle the accomplishments
of the American soldiers.

What he objected to, he said, was
"sending American boys 2,000 miles
to pick a fight."

Complete Evacuation Or Ruhr Demanded By German Chancellor

Munich—Unconditional evacuation of the Ruhr is designated by Chancellor Cuno as the fundamental promise from which any discussion
aiming to end the present conflict
must proceed.

In a long speech Thursday night
the chancellor reiterated the government's position, asserting that any discussion regarding the termination of any conflict with France must precede upon a basis of unconditional
evacuation of the invaded territory.
"So long as the regime of lawlessness
was not definitely abandoned, fulfillment of the treaty obligations was unthinkable," he said.

down renegade Indians who

BULLETIN

Salt Lake, Utah—Word was received here Friday that the effect of a skirmish late Thursday between the renegade Utes and a white posse
near Wash-Comb, southeastern Utah,
one Indian was killed and five bucks
and four squaws were captured.

Salt Lake, Utah—Old Posey, more than a century ago, and his band of renegade Indians, a battling force for their lives. They have been driven into what is known as the Dark Tank
country, a stunted section of land
twenty miles square and about thirty miles east of Monticello.

Several posse members have been posted at the only two known exits
that horses can use and are holding the red men at bay while the others
of the posse are closing in on the band from the rear and cutting off all avenues of retreat. Continuous firing is reported.

MAY SCALE CLIFF

It is possible that the Indians may attempt to scale a huge cliff in order to escape from the trap, but according to latest dispatches a strong detachment of men has been posted at a point from which the Indians can be picked off as they appear above the rim of the cliff.

threatened uprising of the Montezuma

dians would not materialize. The Utes are declared to be friendly, despite efforts which have been made by the other tribes to get the ten to join in a general revolutionary movement.

Series Of Gatherings Will Be Held Among C. Of C.
Members For Week

Small group meetings of the members of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce are being called to discuss the plans of work for the year and the importance of the projects to be carried out. In order to have all the projects and occupations represented at each of the meetings, the groups are being arranged in alphabetical order. Assignment blanks have been sent out to holders of plural memberships with the request that the names of those to whom they are assigning the memberships be sent in at once so that all may be included in the discussion.

The first meeting will take place at 7:30 Friday evening when the chairman will be W. H. Eschinger and F. E. Schlitz. There will be two groups on Monday under the direction of George Lausman at 4:30 in the afternoon and under H. J. Guckenberg and E. H. Wright at 7:30 in the evening. At 7:30 Tuesday evening, Walter Joyce and Clarence St. John will be in charge, while on Wednesday evening, H. H. Hauge, Jr. and Ambrose Wilton will be chairman. Walter Miller and H. A. DeBauer will have charge of the final meeting on Thursday evening.

In a questionnaire which is to be given out at the meetings, three questions will be asked. They are concerning what the biggest community project is, how the chamber of commerce can help the individual's business and the relative importance of the projects now before the chamber.

The projects which are listed are the community building, the stock pavilion, vadoct, trade promotion, additional school facilities, union depot industrial development, garbage disposal, community advertising and public golf links. Every questionnaire will be kept on file and every suggestion will be recorded for future use. The more people who endorse a project, the sooner it will be taken up for accomplishment.

DEFER 'GYM' DRIVE WINDUP TO APRIL 3

Because only 60 per cent of the students at Lawrence college have been collected in the gymnasium drive for $50,000, it was decided to continue the campaign until the Thursday after spring vacation. Almost no soliciting was done on Friday when the students were preparing to go in their homes, but the total pledged now is $35,000.

Work will be commenced early Tuesday, April 3 and will continue three days. There is no doubt in the minds of the committees in charge that $12,000 necessary to complete the drive can be obtained in pledges from the rest of the students who have not yet been seen.

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats

Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker.
Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish.
No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly.
The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.
But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.
Ask for Quick Quaker if you want this style. Your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

ABANDON PLANS FOR STYLE WEEK

There will be no style week parade and special store openings this spring according to a decision arrived at by the style week committee of Appleton Advertising club.

The date of an evening of events proclaiming the arrival of spring goods was set for March 12, but the night was stormy and there has been continuous unfavorable weather since. It was decided that the season now is too far advanced and the plans will be dropped.

Money which various merchants contributed toward the expense will be returned by the committee.

DEPEND ON GIRL OF NINE TO SEND FATHER TO NOOSE

California Village Stirred Over
"Love Decoy" Murder Of Woman

Santa Cruz, Calif.—The state is relying on the testimony of a nine-year-old girl to send her father to the gallows as the murderer of her mother. That is the climax of a remarkable string of events growing out of a mysterious slaying which has horrified this little seashore resort and which already is widely known as the "love decoy murder."

The state knows these facts about the murder:

THAT Mrs. Elizabeth Master, 45, mother of five children, was found brutally beaten to death in her bed.

THAT her husband, John R. Master, real estate dealer, made a statement declaring his wife was slain by two burglars, because she screamed.

Now, from these known facts and from other evidence investigators have uncovered, the prosecutor says he hopes to prove.

THAT Masters killed his wife because he thought an attractive widow loved him. But the widow didn't love him at all—that she flattered him only that she might arouse the jealousy of an eligible young bachelor and thus gain the bachelor's affections.

Hence the title of "love decoy murder."

Mrs. Della Stallman, says the prosecutor, is the widow in the case. She is almost in collapse over the tragic ending of her harmless prank.

This is the story as the prosecutor will try to reconstruct it at the trial: Mrs. Stallman is fond of Patrick Coyne. How shall she make him reciprocate her feeling? By jealous, woman's age-old article!

She casts about for a decoy. She goes on Master whose business affairs bring him into contact with her. She'll just flirt a little—all very harmlessly, she thinks—and Coyne will be caught.

But Coyne, thinking the plot to be thicker than it is, goes to Mrs. Master. She becomes furious. But things are patched up.

Then, in the next scene, the brutal murder of Mrs. Master takes place. Did Master do it? Or did burglars, as he claims? A jury must decide that.

To aid them, they'll have not only the testimony of little Helen but that of Raymond, a son, who slept above the death room and says he heard no scream, which Master says his wife emitted when terrified by the marauders.

And experts will testify that a screen, alleged by Master to have been broken by the burglars, really was broken from the inside.

Such is the drama that started in comedy and ended in blood.

LACK OF COAL KILLS NIGHT LIFE IN BERLIN

Berlin—Night life in Berlin was dealt a hard blow through the recent police regulation prohibiting public dancing, and requiring all cafes to close at 11 p. m.

Many of the dance halls still keep open, and have tried to provide substitutes for cabaret performances, but the would-be merry-makers sit listlessly about and seem to show no interest except when the orchestras strike up dance music, then they wiggle their shoulders, yawn, and move sadly into the dimly lighted streets at eleven o'clock.

Until the Ruhr occupation and the threatened shortage of fuel, cafes were permitted to remain open until o'clock. That made it possible for theater crowds to visit the dance-halls and cafes after the theatre performances. But now this is impossible, as most of the theatres begin their program at 7:30 or 8:00.

Walters' organizations are endeavoring to have the theatres open at 8:30, so that the crowds may visit the cafes after the performance and thus prevent thousands of waiters and other cafe employees from losing their jobs.

CHECKUP ON MAIDS NEEDED TO STOP KIDNAPING MANIA

New York "Mother Love" Case
May Lead To Enactment
Of New Law

Albany, N. Y.—Stricter supervision of employment bureaus, possibly through new legislation, may grow out of Albany's latest kidnapping.

While credit for the swift solution of the mystery of three-year-old Leopold Minkin's disappearance was being given to newspaper publicity by Chief of Police Frank Lasch, a plea came from Mrs. Mary Hamilton, special investigator of the New York police department for less carelessness by parents in investigating servant references.

The nurse girl, Angelina Tavano, who was found with the missing child in Newburgh, is held on a charge of kidnapping the son of City Judge Leopold Minkin.

This is the fourth case of this kind to alarm Albany. In 1897 John Conway, four, was kidnapped and held for ransom, but his abductors were captured. In 1916 Billy Clark, five, was abducted and later his body was found. In 1918 Alexis Stockburger, 12-year-old school girl, disappeared while on her way to meet her sister, and has never been found.

"I worked on all four cases," said Chief Lasch, who has been with the Albany police force 30 years. "The Minkin case was the easiest, for newspapers these days, in 9 out 10 affairs of this kind, beat all the detectives in the world."

Mrs. Hamilton, first New York policewoman, believes that some enemy made by Judge Minkin in his court duty may have had something to do with the kidnapping.

"While there should be strict supervision of employment bureaus," she said, "it is also imperative that parents investigate more closely the references of servants they propose taking into their homes."

"The theory that this nurse girl was actuated by the mother-love mania is well known in criminology. There should be a careful police check on women of this kind. Recently there was a similar case in New York of a woman who was sent to an asylum after kidnapping a child, and after her release did exactly the same thing in New Orleans. Investigation showed she had been similarly involved in six cases."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance, which is so attractive.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

SHIP SUBSIDY A POLITICAL MISTAKE

Ship subsidy is dead. As a matter of fact it was never at any time in anything more than a semi-paralytic state. The persistent and repeated attempts of President Harding to secure this legislation constitute the greatest single mistake of the administration in the field of domestic affairs. We think Mr. Harding laid altogether too much stress on the importance of ship subsidy, and that it was a blunder to try to force it upon the country in the face of the fact that it was unpopular and that congress itself had no taste for it. The defeat of the bill, which was frankly and purely an administration measure, must be regarded as a blow to the prestige of the president, and to the judgment of those in control of the policies of the government.

Mr. Harding has of course been actuated only by a sincere and honorable motive in his efforts to solve the American merchant marine problem in this manner. No one will question his integrity of purpose or his honest desire to promote the commercial and shipping interests of the nation in the best possible way. He doubtless has been convinced that ship subsidy was the logical and in fact only way to insure the competitive strength of America in the mercantile world. It is evident now that whatever the president thought, his political supporters and advisors either did not think as he did, or were lukewarm in the support that they gave him. He made his appeal to congress on the basis of party loyalty, supplementing this with the influence of his own office. The only result has been discord and division in the party and negative results for the bill itself.

It is to be taken for granted that this will mark the end of ship subsidy so far as the Harding administration is concerned, for in all probability the president will submit to the evident determination of congress to have nothing to do with ship subsidy in any form. So far as politics is concerned, there can be no question that congress is right and the president is wrong. The merits of the proposal are open to argument, but that is a different matter. It will be up to congress to find its own solution for the mercantile marine question, which remains a most perplexing and far-reaching problem.

THE MARTYRDOM OF MONTENEGRO

Montenegro, the first of our allies in the World War to enter the struggle, lost in it more than one-half of its fighting men and one-third of the civil population perished through privations and famine. And while the bolsheviks and Greeks, who were not our allies, have received most generous help, the people of the Black Mountain have been entirely forgotten because proudly they have never begged and did not know how to advertise themselves.

A tiny spot on the map of Europe, Montenegro has a history of many centuries of heroism. This hardy race of clean living christian mountaineers was for centuries the bulwark of christianity, and no people have more deserved this title, because they have been the eternal scouts of the cross against the crescent, forever on the alert, on their snowy peaks, never conquered by the barbaric mussulmen hordes.

One hundred and sixty thousand strong, the best fighters of the padisha of Constantinople attacked the Black Mountains in the 17th century, fighting ten to one. They went in, but never came out. And their bones can be found even this day, lying at the bottom of the ravines and passes of Montenegro. Napoleon tried to tackle the Montenegrins but his generals gave up the task.

A Montenegrin humanitarian mission is at present in this country, headed by Doctor Vladimir Petrovich, for the purpose of revealing to the world the appalling conditions of this country, ruined by the occupation of a relentless foe whose imperialistic aim has been thwarted by the love of liberty of the fiery little nation. This mission does not concern itself with political conditions; its aim is entirely of mercy. Some 200,000 women and children in Montenegro are starving and in many instances are eating grass to sustain themselves. More than 10,000 homes have been burned and thousands of refugees are crowding neighboring countries, where they are no better off.

They hope in America, as everybody does nowadays, and they think that if the people of this country knew, they would help. The Methodist church and the pope of Rome have helped the starving mountaineers and his holiness gave means and encouragement to the mission to come to the land of the free to seek bread. Men cannot live by bread alone—but men must have bread to live at all.

Today Montenegro has no bread. She has saved her national soul by loyalty to ideals and in the world crisis she gave all she had to save others. Even her small military contribution counted then, because her stubborn resistance to the Austrian force gave the larger Serbian army time, just as Belgium's resistance saved France. But Montenegro's unique value to the world is moral. And the free peoples that have bread cannot afford to let the light of liberty go out on the Black Mountain for want of the crumbs that fall under their tables.

LABOR OPPOSES OLD AGE PENSIONS

No wiser step has been taken by the American Federation of Labor than that of opposing legislation, proposed in several states, for old age pensions. The federation's action is judicious, not solely from labor's own standpoint, but even more forcibly from the moral and patriotic standpoint.

In several states there has been a noticeable, though slight drift toward socialism in the last few years. The tendency has been apparent, too, to a small extent in congress. A few theorists and reformers of the radical type have been exaggerating the importance of the state itself, and a sentiment has been growing unconsciously among a large number of the voters that the state is or should be a parent to the public.

No group of citizens should be so foolish as to rely on the state for support in old age. The attitude which would assent to an arrangement for pension from the state denotes lack of spirit, of confidence, of independence and of self-assurance. We should not long remain a liberty-loving, ambitious and aggressive nation if we stultified our character by looking to the state for help.

The American Federation of Labor is right in the stand that it takes. Workmen and all other citizens should help themselves, and be glad and proud to do it. They should save money. They should take out insurance. They should not be dependents on the state, being willing to let the state maintain them or their families, but should, on the contrary, insist that they take care of themselves.

THIS IS QUITE TRUE

Dr. Charles F. Murphy, boss of Tammany Hall, the widely known New York political organization, is thus quoted: "In my judgment the saloon in the United States is gone, never to return."

It is among the possibilities that the present law will be somewhat modified. It is not satisfactory in its results. Many respectable and serious-minded persons honestly believe that more good would come if reasonable privileges were granted.

But sentiment is practically unanimously opposed to the vicious and degrading saloon. Mr. Murphy quite truly says that the saloon is gone, never to return. The saloon should not return.

THE OSTRICH WAYS OF HEALTH

Some one asks about spending winters in Florida if one is subject to bronchial trouble or afraid of getting pneumonia.

Assuming the querist does not reside in Florida, he would be just as safe there through the winter as almost anywhere else in North America, in my judgment. Of course, they have their share of pneumonia in Florida, California and all those ideal places, but not more of it in relation to the population than Massachusetts, Minnesota or Michigan. Anybody who contemplates traveling to get away from pneumonia had better travel north; if such a traveler goes far enough north he may escape contact with the disease throughout the winter, for while pneumonia is widely prevalent in the south temperate and subtropical belt it is comparatively rare in the north.

Some boys in New Hampshire recently achieved the movies by diving for a swim in a hole cut in the ice. They trained themselves for the stunt by beginning last summer and swimming every day without interruption when the water began to grow chilly in the autumn. It is like the fable of the man who began carrying a calf on his shoulders every day and kept it up steadily for several years, so that it was no trouble for him when the calf had grown to adulthood. I have nothing against Florida or California or any other ideal spot, if there is such a spot, but in my judgment the best thing for the winter is to cut best fortify himself for the season by emulating the New Hampshire boys or the fellow who shouldered the bull. As one help in doing this, establish an absolute limit for the household thermometer and see to it that the temperature throughout the season of artificial heating is never permitted to rise above 68 degrees Fahrenheit. From 60 to 65 degrees is the healthful range.

There is no place wither you or I may go where pneumonia is unlikely to happen, unless it be within polar territory. So far as this risk is concerned, the relief or cure of bronchitis, residents of more northern places who slip away to Florida or California merely do what the myth makes the ostrich do when he is confronted with danger. One subject to bronchitis or other chronic respiratory disease or unduly susceptible to pneumonia is "poorly" in the winter because that is the season when foul air is generally deemed fit to breathe. Foul air is air that is still and warm—too still and too warm.

It would indeed be silly to urge folks to keep cool and shivering for health's sake. Keep comfortable, by all means, but bear this fact in mind, Natural body warmth which is essential to comfort does not depend on the temperature of the air of the room. Experience proves that it is easier for any one, young or old, feeble or vigorous, to keep comfortable in a room having an air temperature of 65 than it is in a room having a temperature of 75. So don't try to keep good and warm; try to keep cool and well.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Callus Cure

Please tell something that will cure calluses. I can hardly walk.—R. D.

Answer—A callus may be softened and removed by the daily application to it of the well known corn remedy—
Salicylic acid 30 grains
Flexible collodion 1/2 ounce
This must be kept very tightly corked, otherwise the ether will evaporate and leave a thick mass in the vial. A frequent factor in cases of painful callus under the ball of the foot, is flattening of the transverse arch, due to improper shoes. A pad of thick felt or of soft leather about the shape and size of the callus should be worn upon the sole to support the arch.

Half a Dozen a Day

I will soon be in Florida; I am very fond of oranges, often eating four or five a day. But some friends tell me this will make my teeth and cause an acid condition of my blood.—Mrs. B. T.

Answer—Your friends are spoofing. Half a dozen oranges a day would tend rather to render the blood more alkaline, and be beneficial to the teeth and gums. Indeed, the addition of a little orange or orange juice to a diet otherwise deficient has been found to improve the nutrition and condition of the teeth. Perhaps your friends are troubled with sour grapes.

Order Rain Or Sunshine When It Is Wanted

Moundsville, W. Va. — Whenever the farmer wants rain, he will get it.

Whenever the sport fans want sunshine, he will have it. Yes, weather will be supplied hereafter as desired, even though the sun and clouds threaten to spoil the day for the farmer or fan.

This promising possibility comes from tests already proved successful at Dayton, O., and at Langlin Field, here, in which army aviators have been able to bring on rain or to dispel threatening clouds. The experiments are being conducted under the supervision of Prof. Wilbur D. Bancroft of Cornell University and Prof. L. Francis Warren of New York.

Bancroft and Warren do not claim they can make rain or dispel clouds in every instance, but they have so far succeeded to produce the desired results in most attempts made.

In one of the experiments conducted here a wind-driven generator was used to charge a load of sand with 10,000 volts positively or negatively, as the operator desired. This electrified sand was scattered over the clouds while the plane was soaring 500 feet higher at a speed of 100 miles an hour.

Observation showed that these highly charged particles made a large hole through the clouds in a fraction of a second. Finer dust particles were used for moist clouds, than those that were dispelled over fog or mist.

Rain or fair weather in these tests seemed to depend on the negative or positive electrification of the sand particles. Further tests are being conducted here to establish this point.

Choir Music To Be Echo Of Easter

St. Olaf Lutheran Singers Drawing Heavy Sale Of Tickets Here

St. Olaf Lutheran choir is to visit Appleton at an auspicious time. This nationally famed group of singers from St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., is to present a concert at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Easter Monday, April 2.

Sales of tickets already have been heavy, especially in the Lutheran churches, which are sponsoring the concert here. William H. Zuehlke is general chairman of the arrangements and has arranged for the sale through Lawrence Conservatory of Music, the A. A. Association for Lutherans and several drug stores.

Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN—that's why it relieves constipation!

Half-way measures mean nothing to the man, woman or child whose very existence is threatened by the habitual clogging of the elimination channels. Foods with only part bran can never clean and sweep the intestines in the nature-way as does Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

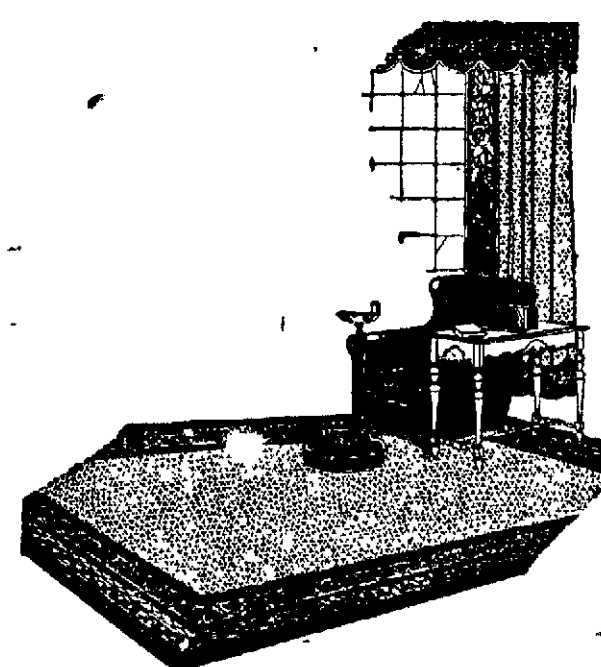

And, Kellogg's Bran is as delicious in flavor as it is positive in its action. If it is eaten regularly—two table-spoonsful daily; in chronic cases, with each meal—it will permanently relieve the most aggravated case.

Your health will be greatly improved within a brief period if you will eat this delicious Kellogg cereal. Know what Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, will do for you and for your loved ones. There is no time to be lost in getting the relief that Kellogg's Bran assures.

Kellogg's Bran is delightful as a cereal, sprinkled over any hot or cold cereal, or served in countless appetizing ways in baking and cooking. It makes the best sort of pancakes, muffins, raisin bread, macaroons, etc., you ever ate. And, each mouthful contributes to health! Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. Kellogg's Bran works for you all the time! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran for constipation.

A pimply complexion or an offensive breath can both be overcome by the regular use of Kellogg's Bran, which is sold by grocers everywhere.

Beautiful Rugs

Back ground is the first essential of a room's color scheme, because it establishes the color thought and forms the setting with which to show off the furnishings of the room to the best advantage.

Therefore, your rugs must be chosen with much thought, and we believe that the more thought you give to the selection of your rugs, the more apt you are to decide on a Wilton or Chenille Fabric. They have a richness that will add a permanent tone to your home.

See the new Two Tone and Shadow designs in Chenilles. They are particularly fine, and the cost is not high.

SOUTH AMERICANS MUST SPEAK THEIR VIEWS FRANKLY AT COMING CONFERENCE

If Grievances Against U. S. Are To Be Ended

By Associated Press
Washington—The fifth Pan-American Conference opens at Santiago, Chile, March 26.

If it passes off pleasantly it may be taken for granted that little has been accomplished. If there's some plain, strong talk, there'll be reason to assume good has been done.

The Latin-American countries have certain deep-seated misunderstandings among themselves. The time may come when the United States can do her part toward settling them.

What is of interest to the North American delegates at the Chile meeting is the existence of some bitter South American grievances against the United States.

To a fellow Latin-American, the Latin-American speaks plainly. To the visiting North American his instinct is to be very polite, leaving disagreeable subjects strictly alone.

There is the danger that, deceived by this politeness, the North American delegates may go home from Santiago believing everything all right, in which case, the South American delegates will go home as biased as they came.

But if the South Americans can be induced to unburden their minds, the North Americans will have a chance to explain.

A study of the South American press shows these subjects, in particular, that need to be discussed:

1. The dispatch by the United States of some 40 experts to help Brazil strengthen her navy. This pleased Brazil but was regarded by the other republics as assisting the Brazilians to arm against them. It caused the abrupt termination of disarmament negotiations which were progressing between Argentina, Brazil and Chile. Because of it, the Buenos Aires newspapers, in particular, have attacked President's Harding's disarmament utterances as insincere.

NORTH AMERICAN DELEGATES AT THE PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE. LEFT TO RIGHT: COL. WILLIAM E. FOWLER OF WASHINGTON, D. C. COMMERCIAL TRADE EXPERT; SENATOR FRANK B. KELLOGG OF MINNESOTA; GEORGE D. VINCENT, PRESIDENT OF THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION; DR. L. S. ROWE, CHIEF OF THE LATIN-AMERICAN DIVISION OF THE U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT; HENRY P. FLETCHER, FORMERLY U. S. MINISTER TO MEXICO AND NOW AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM.

2. The proposed League of American Nations. This is criticized from two angles. Some declare it is a Uruguayan scheme to secure North American backing in a dispute with Argentina concerning control of the mouth of the River Plate. Others believe it is calculated to spread North American domination. A third view point interprets the move as assuming the equality of the relatively strong states south of Panama with the petty republics of Central America and the West Indies.

3. North American efforts to bring Latin America into a patent and trademark union with her. This plan, though it has succeeded partially in Cuba and Brazil, is attacked elsewhere as an attempt to enable the United States to shape such legislation to suit her own purposes, in disregard to the other signatories' rights.

4. North American proposals for a single Pan-American money. This is spoken of suspiciously.

5. Canada's failure to receive an invitation to the conference. The South Americans want Canada represented frankly because they think she could be played off against the United States. They attribute her exclusion to the jealousy of the United States. The point having been made that she is not an independent country, the big Buenos Aires newspaper, "La Nacion," asked sarcastically: "Are we to assume, then, that Santo Domingo is?"

The advertising that Henry P. Fletcher was received as a suitable head of the North American delegation to Santiago because he was a successful ambassador to Mexico. Without disputing that he may be well equipped for the mission, the South American press resents the idea that any similarity is seen between them and the Mexicans.

The North Americans have the advantage of one topic—if they bring it up—which will interest South Americans intensely. This is the proposition to invest large sums in rubber development on the southern continent. True, such an enterprise would put money directly only into regions where rubber grows, but all would count on getting some of the overflow.

Besides, it would be regarded as only a very start, tending to encourage further investment in other lines.

Clean Up Poison Soaked Kidneys Advises Dr. Carey

Thousands Die Every Year Because They Allow Poisonous Deposits to Accumulate in Kidneys

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh makeshifts, says Dr. Carey; they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them rough.

For 40 years I have been using my Prescription No. 777 for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health.

If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffs under eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or side ache you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777 right away.

It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon.

IMPORTANT—Dr. Daniel G. Carey has been a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription No. 777, known for 40 years as "Marsh-root," has cured thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. It is not a patent medicine and is only sold through drug stores in order to accommodate his patients. adv.

I SPIED TODAY

GEE, I BET THEY HURT!

As I was going along Oneida street near the high school at about four o'clock Thursday, I saw two girls. Not far in front of them was a little girl about ten years old. She wore Russian boots which by the looks of them were at least several sizes too large, but she didn't seem to mind. As she went clumping along, every time she took a step the water would splash on the back of her coat which was already covered with mud and water. The two girls went up to her and told her what she was doing. Indignantly she turned on them and said, "Please mind your own business after this" and then walked off with her head held high in the air. The girls were too surprised to say anything or I'm sure they would have hurled some figure of speech after her. D. E. S.

AND NOW HE HAS A COLD

Thursday night as I was leaving the chapel after the band concert I saw a man busily looking for his hat. A few minutes later he hurriedly passed me with nothing to protect the top of his bald-head except his wide coat collar which he had turned up around his head.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv.

A Woman's Way

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists. adv.

It was certain that St. Augustine, the end of the Cruise would not be reached before Friday evening at the earliest and possibly not before Saturday morning.

CHICKS START SPRING OPTIMISM ON ITS WAY

Spring is two days old and so are the chicks that are being shipped to this city via the parcel post route. If it is warm enough for them, it should be warm enough for anybody. They are an untiring sign of spring, and their "peep, peep" heard from the lobby of the postoffice is quite capable of feelings akin to exultation in the fact that winter is feeling fast.

Circular doors, weighing eighteen tons and 2 ft. thick, are a new protection for safes against burglars. London omnibuses last year carried 847,000,000 passengers.

You'll like the way they fit, and the distinctive way they are tailored. These new Spring models have many features which make them unusually smart. Many of Appleton's good dressers have already made their selections. Why not pick out your suit today? Because they are

A. A. L. GRATEFUL FOR BAND CONCERT

Zuehlke Sends Letter Of Thanks For Music At Opening Of Building

In an open letter to the 121st Artillery band, the Aid Association for Lutherans through its treasurer, William H. Zuehlke, has expressed its appreciation for the services the band rendered voluntarily at the formal opening of the Insurance-bldg. The letter, addressed to Director Percy Fullender, is as follows:

"The officers and directors of this association have requested me to express to you their appreciation of the fine spirit of cooperation extended by the band on the occasion of the formal opening of our building on March 2, 1923.

"The members of your organization, feeling that the Aid Association for Lutherans, by the erection of their home office building, have made a notable contribution to the movement for a greater Appleton, and being filled with that sense of civic pride which they have always shown when they could be of service on public occasions of this kind, voluntarily offered to present to the citizens of Appleton a complimentary concert on the opening day to show in their way their appreciation of this latest addition to Appleton's fine business.

"We are not only thankful to you for this public spirited attitude on the part of the band members, but feel that an expression of our thanks should be made public in order that the community may know and better understand what our organization has done and is doing for the community. We are therefore taking the liberty of presenting this letter to your organization through the press of the city."

ON THE SCREEN

BIG CHAPLIN FEATURE, "THE PILGRIM," COMING

Charles Chaplin's first big feature production since "The Kid" will be the attraction extraordinary on the screen at the Elite Theatre Monday for a four days' engagement next week.

It is a four-reeler entitled "The Pilgrim" and presents Chaplin, minus his famous derby and cane. Charlie has the role of a fugitive from justice who appropriates a minister's raiment and, on donning it, is not only pursued by an eloping couple, who desire to be married but is also forced to take charge of a church.

According to previous reports, the comedian has not included one unimpressive foot of film in "The Pilgrim." Starting with a closeup of a handball offering a reward for an escaped convict, illustrated by a portrait of Charlie in prison garb, all through the series of thrilling, humorous and even pathetic situations in which he finds himself, the interest is said to be sustained by ever mounting situations which bring the story to a fine climax. Mr. Chaplin's art attains heights of subtlety which he has never equalled.

Keep the Air From the Woodwork

When wood is deprived of the living sap of the tree, it begins to deteriorate. Air, dampness and sunshine are the big enemies. The best protection for your furniture and woodwork is a coating of varnish which excludes damaging agents.

Cosmolac

Is such a varnish—much more than a varnish. Ordinary varnish cracks when the wood swells or shrinks with the varying temperatures. Cosmolac will not crack, scratch, nor bruise white. Cosmolac can be washed with all kinds of soap and washing compounds and is not affected by exposure to rain, snow, sunshine, or frost. Thus it is the perfect varnish for indoor or outdoor use.

Ask for Cosmolac—"with the man on the can."

WARNS NOT TO ACCEPT UNORDERED PARCELS

Persons are warned not to accept or pay for C. O. D. parcels unless they have ordered them, according to Postmaster William H. Zuehlke. Several patent medicine companies are understood to be sending C. O. D. parcels to persons who have not ordered them. They often pay for the parcels only to find upon opening them that they had not ordered them. The United States Postal department at Washington is investigating similar cases throughout the country and the various postoffices are reporting instances of this practice.

"Y" BIBLE CLASS HAS LAST SESSION SUNDAY

The Drop-in bible class which has been meeting regularly each week at the Y. M. C. A. during Lent will in all probability hold its final meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 25, on account of the succeeding Sunday being Easter. The leader will be announced later in the week.

in; she upset accepted traditions in the same manner that Oliver Morosco has bowed over dramatic precedent in the picturization of "The Half Breed," the Associated First National attraction that will be seen at the Elite Theatre today and tomorrow.

In building up a "thinking" story as well as one filled with vigorous action, Morosco has brought to the screen many of the factors which have made him one of the foremost stage producers. And he contends, in "The Half Breed" that human nature remains largely unchanged and that heritage is stronger than the veneer of culture that covers it.

The theme of the birth barrier is handled in a new manner with an unusual twist at the end—just as a girl might really act rather than following the old formula of happy rewards and punishments. The half breed, the central character, is a collegebred chap battling with himself to overcome the primitive instincts which flame up in fiery emotions. In the darkest moment of his life—when all had turned against him—there came to him the girl, the girl who had laughed at him.

Two Pals Are Reunited By Man's Illness

Sudden illness of a traveling salesman was the means by which J. H. Shasky, superintendent of the city home, found a friend whom he had not seen for 14 years.

The friend is E. C. Wigham of St. Louis, who is in St. Elizabeth hospital with illness which seized him while staying at Hotel Appleton.

Mr. Shasky read the announcement of Mr. Wigham's illness in the Post-Crescent, and believing this to be his former "pal," called on him at the hospital. The assumption proved correct, and the salesman was delighted to find himself among friends although ill in a city far away from home.

The two were acquaintances while at White Earth Indian reservation in northwestern Minnesota. Mr. Wigham then was engaged in the grocery business and later lived at St. Paul.

499 GRADUATE AT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL EVENT

Attorney Ryan Tells Value Of Practical Training In His Address

"The vocational school has performed a function that has heretofore been neglected," said Attorney Thomas H. Ryan in his commencement address before the evening classes at the vocational school Thursday evening. "We have learned things in school and college, but after we leave we are apt to forget them because we have not translated them into action. That is the criticism of our schools and colleges today. They educate the head and heart perhaps but do not furnish means of action, while this school does."

The graduating class that completed the evening course was the largest in the history of the school. Certificates were presented by W. S. Ford, director, through the teachers to 499 persons, young and old, from all parts of the city. Every available seat in the assembly room was occupied and many were compelled to stand.

NEED TO PRODUCE

"What we need," said Mr. Ryan, "is to produce things. What good is knowledge to me or to you unless we can translate it into things about us; unless we can assist those around us, unless we can be of benefit to the community and to the church?"

"Look at our amusements today. Look at our motion pictures, our dance halls, our poolrooms and all the other places of amusement. I am not criticising them. They undoubtedly perform a function, but is it not a shame and disgrace that an intelligent community cannot amuse itself without paying for it at exorbitant prices.

"The individuals that made those beautiful dresses exhibited here tonight, with due credit to the dress-makers of experience, got more pleasure while they were making them than they would get at a dance hall or motion picture theatre and got it for nothing and added it to the nation. Down in Mr. Chadek's room we are amused as soon as we get there; we are producing, we are translating into material things and getting pleasure therefrom."

SERVICE UPPERMOST

"Which is more important in life, wealth or service? It is service, and the sooner we learn it the better it is for us and the nation. And the only way you can serve is by translating into action the powers God has given you and what you have developed yourself."

"What better agency is there than this vocational school? In dollars and cents it pays for itself every day, and in the good it is doing to the community and to the nation you cannot estimate it in its service."

"We must not forget in this age of specialists we are apt to become specialists in everything and when we fail to become all around individuals we are treading on dangerous ground."

HOLD STYLE SHOW

A feature of the program was a style show which proceeded Judge Ryan's address. In groups of three, making and millinery classes, wearing gowns and hats they had made themselves, marched up one aisle to the platform, circled it and returned down another. Each group was applauded.

The musical part of the program included a radio concert, and vocal solos by Miss Gehm to Lawrence conservatory and G. S. McKee, the accompanist in each instance being Miss Gasler of the conservatory. Harry Oaks gave a reading and responded to an encore.

"We have a total enrollment of 753 students," said W. S. Ford, director, in presenting the certificates, "and of that number 499 are receiving certificates for having satisfactorily done the work during the two terms of the evening school. I feel, under the circumstances this is a very excellent percentage who have completed the work especially in view of the fact there are so many things that break into the program."

HAD 55 CLASSES

"We have conducted 55 different classes this year, and 17 different subjects have been offered. We have not reached the ideal. I want to say the ideal will be reached when we are able to offer a class for every subject which people inquire about."

"By far the largest number of classes this year has been in sewing. We have had 16 sewing classes running throughout the year. I think we have had a very excellent demonstration of the effectiveness of their work. Twenty weeks is not a particularly long period in which to accomplish

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

When Mr. Meyers of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, stepped into the drug store and asked his druggist for the best medicine he had in his store for woman's ills, is it any wonder he was handed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Mrs. L. K. Meyers in writing of it says: "I had been weak, run down and had a pain in my left side for a long time, so I could not do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me in a short time so I was able to do all of my housework including washing and ironing, and now I feel fine all the time." As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for benefiting 98 women out of every 100 women who take it, it will pay every suffering woman to try it.

COMPENSATION IS ASKED FOR INJURY TO WORKER'S EYE

Three Cases Heard By Industrial Commission At Court House

Only one case was heard at the workmen's compensation hearings in the courthouse Thursday afternoon. It was that of Harwood Products company of Neenah vs. Ernest Schultz in which the company filed application for the employee who is suffering with defective sight on account of being struck in the eye by a piece of a saw on Oct. 18 of last year.

Friday morning testimony was taken in the case of William Rabbe vs. Interlake Pulp and Paper company in which the claimant asked for compensation for injuries to his finger. It was testified that Rabbe was operating a wood barge which became clogged with wood and finally drew Rabbe's hand against the knives, thereby cutting the index finger and middle finger of his left hand. The accident occurred Jan. 23, 1922, and permanent disability is said to have resulted.

Two more cases were to be heard Friday afternoon after which Examiner Harry A. Nelson and Reporter Paul C. Bode were to go elsewhere. Application for compensation has been filed by Bayne Langell for an injury he received while in the employ of Bissell Lumber company of Tripoli on Nov. 12. It is asserted he fell about 10 feet from some timbers upon a door thus bruising his left arm and the left side of his head. He was disabled for three months and has not yet recovered.

Another case yet to be heard is that of Mrs. Peter Wils vs. T. L. Heid of the Hotel Appleton. Mrs. Wils declared that she suffered three different injuries about last August while working in the hotel. The first time she cut her fingers on some safety razor blades back of a radiator. Next she cut her hand on a broken water glass and the third time she strained her arm while reaching behind a bath tub.

NEVER FAILS TO HELP

There was a German in Chicago who treated people for rheumatism, lame back, pleurisy pain, in fact most any ache or pain, all with the same remedy. It never failed to help them. It soon became known throughout the city for its wonderful healing power. He charged the same as the doctors, so much a treatment. One or two applications did the work. When he passed away his secret remained. It stayed in the family. Today you can get that same remedy. We are not charging so much a treatment but we sell it by the bottle in such a way that you can apply it to yourself. It is the only remedy known to heal quinsy. It brings relief on the different ailments so quickly and nicely because it opens the pores, extracts the poison, thereby relieving the nerves right at the seat of pain. SIR NORMAN TALKS

I saw her luggage through the customs, for which, as she knew no French, she was grateful. I offered her a seat in the car, which had been sent for me, but she shook her head. "I am going to the Gare de l'Est," she said.

"Where you will take a fresh cab and drive to the address which you do not intend me to hear," I remarked. "You need not go out of your way. I will give you another parole. I will make no effort to discover your address, so you can take your chance. I will be waiting there. I shall be at the Hotel Muehlen. If you have an hour to spare, we will drive in the Bois tomorrow."

For the next few days I was immersed in the complications of the business which had brought me to Paris. To my surprise, Janet called on me the first night and told me our drive in the Bois. It was easy to realize that, whatever the business which had brought her to Paris may have been, it was of a disturbing nature. She was nervous and ill at ease, looking around all the time as though she were afraid of being observed. Somehow, I gathered from her parting words that she was obsessed by some new fear, some undressing dread of circumstances, of which, however, she gave me no inkling.

At the end of the third day of my stay a little conference was held in my salon between Guy Ennison—who had worked in the English secret-service during the war, and whose headquarters had been in Paris—myself and Monsieur Deslin, an ex-chief of the police, now a member of Lutarde's government. Deslin was short and corpulent little Frenchman, with black moustache and imperial, vivid black eyes and a most vivacious manner.

"Sir Norman Greyes," he said grasping my hand. "You are welcome. He is in danger—of that I am assured."

Much of the rest of his speech was irrelevant. The gist of the matter, however, was contained in his concluding sentences.

The bearer can be altogether trusted. He brings you a verbal message of great importance. You will further our mutual interests if you will give it your most serious consideration.

"They will seek to strike through his own weakness—his sentimentality, his excessive good-nature. Philippe Lutarde has always been a lover of women, a kindly and a generous lover. He can resist no appeal to his sympathies; and our French public—you know, perhaps, how strange they are. Whatever our own private lives may be, we tolerate not even indications from our great men. We glorify and sanctify them; we place them on a pedestal; and if they fall, we accuse them from our hearts. All nations have their peculiar form of hypocrisy. That is ours. Lutarde's daily life is being examined at the present moment, hour by hour."

"No! By the police?" I asked.

"No! By the agents of a very dangerous gang of criminals, whose chief we believe to be in league with the other side."

"Why not give warning to Monsieur Lutardet?"

"That has been done. He is haughty and suspicious. He will brook no interference with his actions."

He was attacked last night by an old complaint of his—scatica—and he is absolutely unable to move. He asked me to come to him and to beg that under the circumstances you would do him the honor to come to the hotel. He is ashamed to have to ask you, but the doctor who is with him now absolutely forbids him to stand up. I have here his certificate."

"I will come without delay," said

"Can I meet him?" I suggested.
"Today at the British Embassy," Guy Ennison replied. "We have arranged a little luncheon. He does not know your errand, and he scarcely ever realizes our anxiety."

Our conference broke up soon afterward. At luncheon I found Philippe Lutarde gracious, charming and brilliant. He had the clear skin and bright eyes of a younger man; his snow-white hair was a veritable adornment. He was a delightful companion, and I easily understood the enthusiastic adherence of his friends. Toward the close of luncheon Emmonson spoke to him quite seriously of the existence of some conspiracy against either his life or his honor. Lutarde only smiled.

"My friend," he said, "I much appreciate all your efforts on my behalf; but behold, I am seventy years old! A few years more or less of life now are little. As to my honor that no enemy can besmirch. If I were to surround myself by guards, as you suggest, I might live a long time. I know that without me things might for a time be difficult, and relations between our two countries might suffer. In a month or two—however, all that will be changed—we shall have entered upon a new era—and for these few months I choose to take my risk. I will not submit to espionage on whose behalf he has come, that his presence in Paris should not be known, and my husband deliberated those this hotel, where he sometimes stayed when engaged on secret-service work during the war. He desired me to say that if you preferred not to risk being seen in such a locality, he would endeavor to procure an ambulance car from the hospital and come here."

"Such a thing would be unheard of," Lataud retorted. "I will go with you, of course."

"Well?" my temporary chief asked, looking across at me.

"The moment has arrived," I answered.

Nevertheless for the next three days I cast away my name and reputation to the lonely walks of my profession. I shadowed a French statesman, from the moment when he rose, until midnight. There was a young girl, very beautiful, with great dark eyes and an appealing smile.

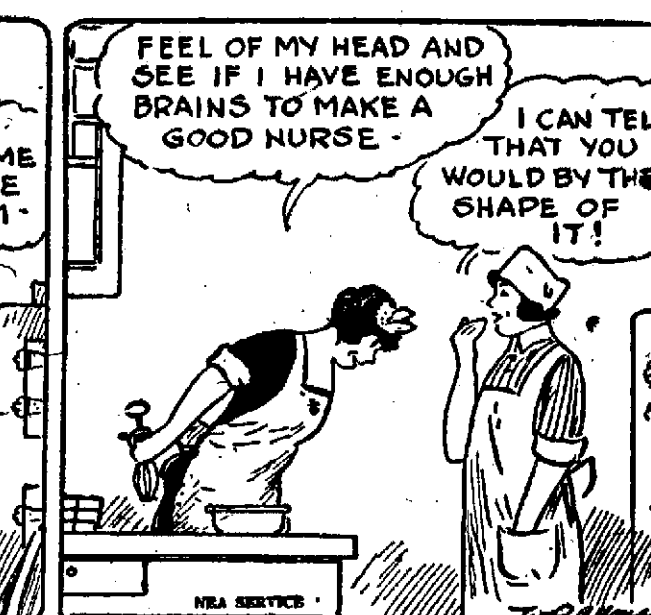

"You suggest that the woman is an impostor," he exclaimed.

"She is the wife of a well-known English criminal," I declared. "His story was plausible but very improbable. What about the letter that she brought?"

RADIO CONCERT TO BE TENDERED N. E. W. AD CLUBS

Program At Neenah Gathering
Also Includes Industrial Exhibit

Radio concerts will be one form of entertainment afforded members of advertising clubs assembling Wednesday, March 28, at Neenah for the meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Association of Advertising Clubs.

A big radio receiving set equipped with a huge amplifier is to be set up in the middle of the lobby of the Valley Inn, banquet headquarters for the ad men, and concerts from every corner of the country will be received.

Surrounding the radio outfit will be exhibits from more than 50 Twin City industrial plants, constituting the greatest collection of displayed products from the "heart of the Fox River Valley" this section has ever seen.

Neenah is to be host to the three or four hundred club members.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

With such speakers as A. B. Taylor, vice president of the Chas. A. W. Nichols advertising firm of Chicago and R. N. Fellows, advertising manager of the Addressograph company and president of the Office Appliance Manufacturers association headlining the after-dinner program, an educational as well as a material feast is promised. These men with big ideas many of which merchant, banker, manufacturer and professional man will be able to use to advantage in his respective fields.

Important group meetings are to be held in the afternoon, the home office building of the Equitable Fraternal Union affording rooms for that purpose.

USE VALLEY INN

Registration opens at 1 p. m. in the lobby of the Valley Inn. Guests registering will receive identification tags and tickets to the evening banquet. It is the idea to make the meeting open not only to advertising club members but to others interested.

Oshkosh, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Waupun, Ripon, Shawano, Stevens Point, Beaver Dam, Berthel, Manitowish, Two Rivers, Waupaca and a half dozen other cities in the north east corner of the state are expected to send delegations to the meeting in addition to the Neenah and Menasha citizens.

U. S. PLANNING FOR MILITARY CAMP

Enrollment For Camp Custer
Aug. 1 To Be Made By Young Men Soon

Notification of the date of opening of the citizen's military training camp at Camp Custer, Mich., has been received by Postmaster William H. Zuehlke from Charles C. Smith, corps area commander. The opening will be on Aug. 1 and will continue to Sept. 1. Major Albert Tucker of Appleton, head of the district corps office, will receive applications for camps as heretofore.

Here young men without previous military experience will be given basic training. Training also will be furnished to persons who have had prior military service in infantry, cavalry, field artillery, signal corps and engineers. The aim is to promote good citizenship and an interest in national defense. The camp places young men of all occupations on an equal basis under the most favorable conditions of our door life.

Three courses are open: The red course with an age limit of 17 to 24 years; white course, 18 to 24 years; blue course, 19 to 24 years. No educational qualifications are prescribed for the red course, although certificates of character and health are necessary. Candidates for the white course must have completed the red course or its equivalent of military training, and candidates for the blue course must have completed the white course or its equivalent.

The government pays all expenses, including transportation, uniforms, food and medical care. Enrollment implies no later service obligation for men in the first or second year, although it is hoped that all will be inclined to associate themselves with the reserves or the national guard.

This is the second poster contest which has been held and the work was a great improvement over the first one.

Most Country Schools Serving Hot Lunches

Warm lunches in rural schools are becoming more and more popular, and practically every school that has the equipment is serving them, according to Miss Nellie McDermott, supervising teacher of the county. They have proven good stimulants for children in their work.

The hot lunch outfit is usually purchased by the school itself from proceeds derived from socials or entertainments. A lunch outfit consists of an oil stove, a large kettle, a long-handled dipper, a measuring cup, a dishpan and two measuring spoons.

In some cases patrons of the school cooperate by sending soup or scalloped potatoes or baked beans or whatever may be ready to serve after a little heatin. Cocoa is prepared at the school and a little canned goods is kept on hand. Among the edibles served are tomato soup, bean soup, potato soup, beef soup, rice pudding, cornstarch pudding, chocolate pudding, mashed, creamed or scalloped potatoes, creamed carrots, etc.

In one school each child is taxed 5 cents a month. This buys the cocoa, sugar, rice and cornstarch. The pupils bring potatoes, milk, beans, tomatoes, etc., from their parents' farms. In another country school two girls are in charge of the warm lunch for a week. Their duty is to prepare the warm dish, serve it, wash dishes and clean up. Everybody wipes his own dishes, for every one keeps a few dishes at the school.

NEW TELEPHONE BOOKS ARE DISTRIBUTED

The new telephone books have arrived in Appleton and a number of them were distributed to patrons Thursday morning. The new books have a blue cover with blue printing. The telephone company has a number of new subscribers whose names are included in this issue of the book and which increases the Appleton section.

The books were a little late in arriving due to labor difficulties in Milwaukee.

AIM TO KEEP CHILD OF FARM IN SCHOOL

Abuse Of Attendance Law Expected To Be Remedied
By Legislature

An appeal has been issued by the state industrial commission and the department of public instruction to all county superintendents asking for their cooperation in making the new department of compulsory school attendance a success.

As a step toward securing better school attendance in rural communities, Taylor Frye, executive officer of the department of compulsory school attendance and also in charge of the child labor division of the industrial commission, has asked the state legislature for passage of the Sachtjen bill which would remove the exemption of children in agricultural pursuits from the application of the child labor laws. It is asserted that the most flagrant abuse of child labor exists in industrialized agriculture of Wisconsin, and principally in the sugar beet fields. It is said that many beet growers are employing children, many of them 5 and 6 years of age. Because of the agricultural exemption, there is no way to reach these children. They are taken out of school when the families migrate to the beet fields and are not returned to the cities until late in the fall. Large families are advertised for by the growers and refiners. Most of them are foreigners and are imported from other states. The communities in which they work are not required to take them in their schools, inasmuch as they are not residents there.

Five Million Dollars More for Taxes Than Dividends

INDUSTRY to live and be successful must earn sufficient money to compensate the three major factors who have investment interest in the enterprise.

First, the stockholder who has invested his savings in the business; second, the employee who has invested his time and talents; third, the people who have given property protection and the right to do business.

Ten years ago the Standard Oil Company, Inc. was dissolved under an order of the United States Supreme Court, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) became an independent organization, controlled by a Board of Directors elected by the stockholders.

In the ten years of its existence, as an independent organization, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid in wages the sum of 335 million dollars to the employees who have invested their time and talents in the service of the Company.

To the Federal, State, County and Municipal Governments, who have furnished property and police protection, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid, in the form of taxes, approximately 79 million dollars in cash, while the stockholders whose thrift and enterprise have made the business possible have been paid cash dividends of 74 million dollars.

In a word the Company has paid, during the past ten years over 5 million dollars more in taxes than the stockholders have received as dividends.

These payments have been possible only because the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has conducted its business in a highly efficient and satisfactory manner, and has won public support through the sheer merit of the service the Company has rendered, and the superior quality of the goods it has made and sold.

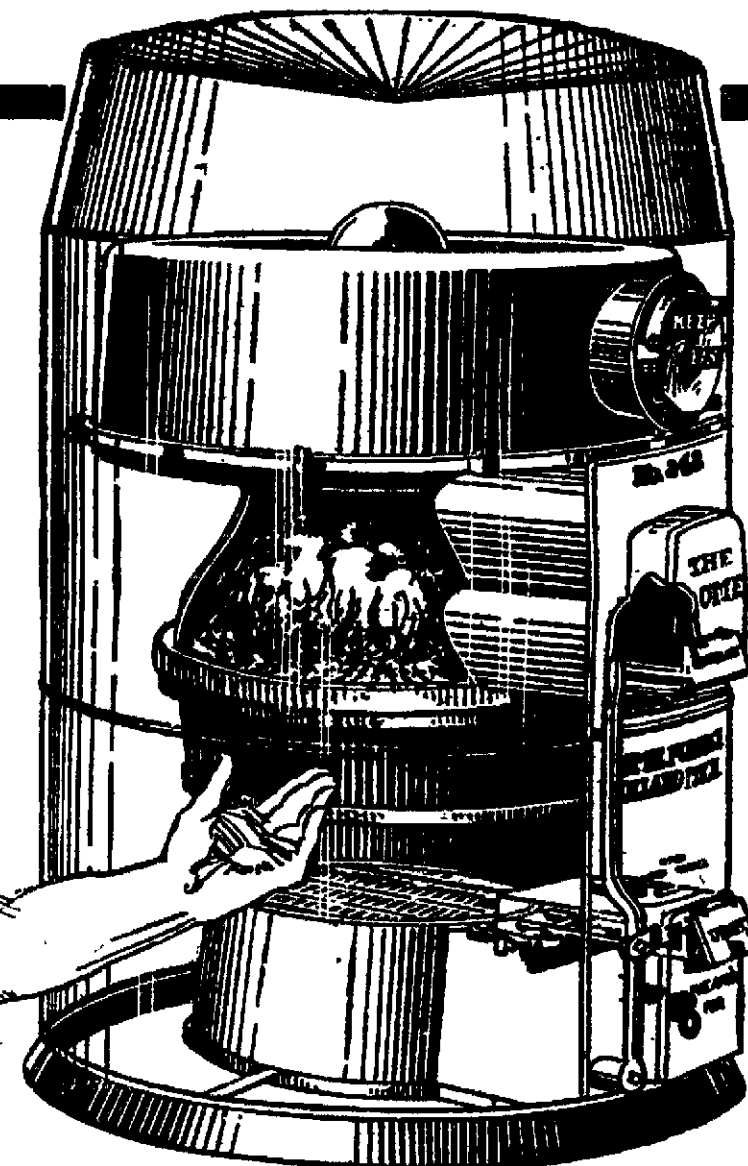

In addition to these cash payments the Company has succeeded in accumulating an invested surplus which has enabled it to largely expand its activities and intensify the service it renders the public by meeting the insistent demands for petroleum products which have become indispensable to our social and economic welfare.

Behind the Advertisement

A drinking cup recently sold in London bears the first known advertisement. The Greek inscription reads "Made by Ennion let the buyer remember." Ennion was a craftsman of Sidon, 2000 years ago. If he hadn't thought it a good cup one well worth his price, he would have preferred that the buyer forget the name of the seller.

Our advertising is a guarantee of our faith in our Meat, Our Prices and Service. Behind every message is the desire and ability to live up to the letter and spirit of the printed word.

APPLETON AND SUPERIOR CLASH TODAY IN STATE TILT

Wisconsin High, Oshkosh Stevens Point, La Crosse Survive For Semi Finals

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison—Appleton high school basketball quintet fought its way into the semifinals of the consolation flight in the state basketball tournament late Thursday afternoon when Cuba City was eliminated by the Fox River valley team by a score of 26 to 14.

Cuba City was defeated by Two Rivers Wednesday afternoon and the Plattville district champions did not offer much competition against Appleton. Mills, forward on the Appleton outfit was the individual star. He got four field goals. His floor work was a big feature too.

Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock Appleton and Superior will clash in a semi-final for the consolation trophy. Superior defeated Janesville Thursday afternoon and won the right to meet Appleton. According to the well known dope bucket Appleton is in for a trimming when they meet Superior. Superior lost to Eau Claire. It is true, but it was one of those odd scraps where the best team loses. Eau Claire played away over its head in that game. Dopesters expect to see Superior cope with the consolation trophy without much trouble.

In the championship flight the Wisconsin high school quintet won its way into the semifinals by trimming Two Rivers, 37 to 20. Stevens Point defeated Eau Claire, 21 to 16 and will meet the Badger preps in the semi-final tilt. LaCrosse's victory over Kenosha entitles the River City team to battle Oshkosh, winner over Antigo. Wisconsin High and Oshkosh should meet for the title Saturday unless their teams fail to live up to expectations.

BLUE AND ORANGE FACING HARDEST FOE IN SUPERIOR

Mills Is Star In Tilt With Cuba City, Says Madison Report

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison—Appleton high school just romped off with Cuba City. The score 26 to 14, is not at all what the Blue and Orange could have done. Coach A. C. Denney used Subs Lutz and Scheurle when his team got a favorable lead.

Mills was the star of the game though other members of the five played well. Heldeman got his shooting eye back and Ashman registered a field goal. Bries was performing well on free throws and missed but a few. The clean guarding work of Hagen was another feature.

Appleton will face what is regarded the toughest foe of the tourney in the afternoon in the semi finals of the consolation series when it will bump into Superior. Superior like Appleton was eliminated the first day when it should have remained in the running. Eau Claire played a way over its head and no need of the Superior aggression by only 2 points. Before the tourney started every one looked upon Superior and Appleton to clash in the finals for the state flag.

Madison sport critics seem to favor Superior to win from Appleton Friday.

Following is the Appleton-Cuba City score:

Want Pocket Billiard Crown? You Can Have It If You'll Beat Pindle

Appletonian Anxious To Meet Challengers—Idle For Nearly Year Now—May Play Illinois Title Holder Soon

Will Harold Pindle of Appleton, Wisconsin's pocket billiard champion, go down the annals of the game as an undefeated champion?

It begins to look that way. Pindle took the crown almost a year ago in April when nine of the state's best strikers assembled in Madison to fight for the honors. Pindle, probably the youngest man present, ran away with the experts, winning eight straight games, defeating Zanders, Beloit; Soley, Eau Claire; Huebner, La Crosse; Spies, Milwaukee; Giese, Milwaukee; Cain, Rhinelander; Fick, Madison and Tadych, Two Rivers.

Idle Ever Since

After taking the crown Pindle went back to Appleton, ready to meet challengers. But what has happened? During the entire eleven months Pindle hasn't gotten a single championship game. There were a number of tilts but these from the start were not regarded as any menace to Pindle. Pindle wants to play and he has asked Secretary J. A. McFarlane of the Wisconsin Billiard Association to let him play. McFarlane who made the trip to Appleton from Milwaukee last week discussed the matter and the best he could offer him was a tilt with Lew, the Illinois champion, who makes his home in Rockford. Pindle agreed to meet him as soon as the match can be arranged.

Will Bar None

Champion Harold thinks that there are plenty of experts in the state, especially in Milwaukee who ought to give him a run.

"I certainly want to get into action," Pindle said, "and I'll bar none in the amateur or professional class."

490 Prizes In Elks Bowling Tourney

$2,427 GOES TO EXPERT AND LUCKY MAPLE SMASHERS

Official List Of Winners Made Public Today—Appleton Slice Is $288

Four hundred and ninety prizes aggregating $2,427 are contained in the official prize list of the eleventh annual tournament of the Wisconsin Elks Bowling association made public Friday by James H. Balliet, secretary of the tournament committee.

The classic, the second held in Appleton in two years and which came to an official close on March 11, was the most successful in the history of the B. P. O. E. both in the number of entries and high scores. All of 1922 markers were topped with the exception of the five man events as no one was able to beat the 3,001 score shot in 1922 by the Rainbow Gardens of Appleton.

TO DECIDE ON NEXT TOURNEY

Due to the inability of the executive committee of the association to meet last Sunday on account of the snow storm no 1924 tournament city has been selected, but the matter will be taken up at a gathering in the near future. Manitowoc and Milwaukee are both seeking the classic.

No particular city made a get-away with the cash as the prizes were well divided among Milwaukee, Green Bay, Racine, Kenosha, Sheboygan, Oshkosh and Appleton, which had the largest number of maple smasher's enrolled. Sixty per cent of the money went for expert bowling while 40 per cent went to "good fellows" who got lumps of money in the order drawn from a hat. Appleton landed eight expert bowling prizes and 16 "good fellows" purses, a total of $288.

ENTRY RECORDS BROKEN

Two hundred and thirty-five man teams took part in the classic, breaking all previous tournament records for eleven years. Two hundred and ninety pairs of bowlers shot in the doubles and 550 took a whack for prizes in the singles. The total events were 1,070. Of the big lump of cash for prizes $221 went to experts in the team events, $398 in the doubles and $365 in the singles. "Good Fellowship" prizes amounted to $942.

SIGNING CHECKS

Checks (490 in all) are being signed by Secretary Balliet and will be in the mails late Friday.

The Shamrock Elks, W. H. Pierce, captain, Menasha, were awarded $55 for the high score of 2,917 in the tourney to a diamond fob to each member of the team, valued at approximately $40, making the complete total of the prize in this event $255.

C. J. Zievers and W. Anderson were awarded $40 and diamond fobs for their first place score of 1,267 in the doubles. Anderson also got another $40 fob for his record smashing score of 1,944 in all the events.

Peter Jorgensen, Oshkosh, got first cash and a diamond fob for his 667 in the singles.

Sheboygan copped first money in the five man events of the "goodfellowship" class. Appleton was lucky in the doubles while Marshfield took first in the "goodfellowship" singles.

GETS SPECIAL PRIZE

A special prize of $1 was ordered by the executive committee to Adolph Pfister, Sheboygan, for the alleged poorest bowling of the tournament. The officials refused to make public Pfister's scores.

COUNTY RECEIVES OVER $200,000 IN TAXES FROM CITY

Bachman Makes Settlement Covering County And State Taxes

Fred Bachman, city treasurer, Thursday made final settlement with Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, on Appleton's quota of the county taxes and also turned over the delinquent tax roll for collection.

The amount of money turned over by the city treasurer made the county more than $200,000 richer. A total of $167,627.61 in county taxes was included in the settlement. For county school taxes the city paid $20,973.35. The delinquent tax roll turned over to the county for collection amounted to $20,248.62. The county treasurer will collect this sum and return to Mr. Bachman the city's share.

INCOME TAX PAID
The income tax roll this year totaled $125,731.87. But the personal property offset reduced the income tax by $46,858.48, and the coupon offset by $4,833.76, thus leaving but $72,408.81 for collection. Of this amount, $935.84 is left on the delinquent tax roll and $698.18 was canceled.

Appleton will derive 70 per cent of the income tax which amounts to $50,684.97. This amount is about $5,000 more than was anticipated by the finance committee of the common council. The county's share and the state's share is 20 per cent and 10 per cent respectively, which combined amounts are $21,721.74.

DELIVER SURTAX
Appleton's surtax roll this year amounted to $30,339.08, but $30,161.51 was collected and $15.40 was canceled, thus leaving $162.17 in delinquent taxes. The entire surtax, will be turned over by the county treasurer to the state.

When the city treasurer remitted the city's quota of county school taxes, the county treasurer in turn remitted to the city schools districts their share of the school tax. The first district received $3,504.49; Second district, $5,358.27; Third district, $8,448.38; Fourth district $2,764.51.
